WITNESS: THE HONOURABLE NORMAN L. KWONG, Lieutenant Governor of Our Province of Alberta, in Our City of Edmonton in Our Province of Alberta, this 28th day of January in the Year of Our Lord Two Thousand Nine and in the Fifty-seventh Year of Our Reign.

BY COMMAND:

ALISON REDFORD
Provincial Secretary.

The Speaker entered the Assembly and took the Chair. After delivering the opening day prayer he invited Mr. Paul Lorieau to lead the Members of the Assembly and guests in singing Canada's National Anthem.

While awaiting the arrival of His Honour the Honourable the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker introduced Honourable Shawn Graham, Premier of New Brunswick, and Honourable Robert W.J. Ghiz, Premier of Prince Edward Island. The Royal Canadian Artillery Band then played a brief musical interlude.

His Honour the Honourable the Lieutenant Governor entered the Assembly and took his seat on the Throne.

His Honour then read the following Speech From the Throne.

Speech From the Throne

This is my fifth year delivering the Speech From the Throne, and it occurs to me that I've never taken the opportunity to thank all the Members of the Assembly for the kindness and support that you've shown my wife and me throughout this term. Serving as Lieutenant Governor is really one of the best jobs in the province because it's a chance to quarterback and coach a championship Alberta team that does a wonderful job of governing our province, and a chance to give back to a place that I'm incredibly proud to call home. So from both myself and my wife, Mary, thank you all for your support.

I would like to extend a special welcome to our guests from Canada's east coast: the Honourable Shawn Graham, Premier of New Brunswick; the Honourable Robert Ghiz, Premier of Prince Edward Island; and the Honourable Jack Keir, New Brunswick Minister of Energy. Premier Graham, Premier Ghiz, and Minister Keir, we're most pleased to have you join us not only in our province but also here in this House, where the business of the people of Alberta is conducted.

Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the Second Session of the 27th Alberta Legislature. Today it is my honour to deliver the Speech From the Throne as it is my honour to serve this province and its people as Lieutenant Governor.

Facing the Future With Confidence

Ours is a beautiful and blessed province. It has always attracted people of courage and determination, dreamers who saw opportunity here and worked together to realize all the possibilities our land offers. Together the people of this province have faced many challenges over the past century. Tough times bring out the best in Albertans. We always pull together and emerge from adversity even stronger than ever before. In tough times we have learned the value of self-reliance and hard work, the need to plan and prepare for the future, and what it means to stand together as a community that looks after its most vulnerable members.

These lessons will guide Alberta as it faces yet another challenge, the global economic uncertainty that is unfolding all around us. Our province is not immune from this turmoil. Far from it. Alberta will face its share of challenges, and government needs to make prudent and realistic decisions to ensure it delivers the things Albertans need at an affordable cost.

But despite the volatile economic times Albertans can face the future with confidence and optimism. We will do what we have always done: adapt, set goals for the future, and move forward in confident pursuit of those goals. Prudent fiscal management has positioned Alberta well. Our province is debt free and has more than $7 billion set aside in the Sustainability Fund to help protect core programs from roller-coaster revenues. Tax changes, including the elimination of health care premiums this year, will save Albertans and Alberta businesses over $1 billion annually, putting extra money in the economy, a welcome stimulus at a critical time.

These actions are part of your government's economic vision, steps that were taken long before the economic downturn began. They will serve Albertans well by helping our province weather the downturn and positioning our province to be ahead of the curve of the next growth cycle.

Our plan as we navigate through these uncertain times will focus on protecting Albertans and the things that matter most to them while preparing the way for growth to resume as quickly as possible. Our commitment to core programs such as health and education will remain strong, and we will continue to implement the strategic capital plan and other long-term initiatives that form our investment in the future to ensure that Albertans will have the infrastructure and services they need for a return to sustained growth and an increasingly diverse economy.

CREATING OPPORTUNITY

As a trading province, Alberta's future economic success will be built on our ability to compete in a world marketplace. Your government will protect and nurture the business conditions that will allow Alberta companies and entrepreneurs to thrive in markets here at home and around the globe. It will also continue to aggressively promote Alberta products nationally and internationally and bolster Alberta's reputation as a place that welcomes those who want to live, work, invest, and trade with us.

Alberta has advocated strongly for the elimination of interprovincial trade barriers and led by example with our agreement with British Columbia to improve competitiveness and bolster the national economy. Removing these barriers will make Canada more competitive and a more desirable place to invest.

Alberta is also developing a comprehensive new strategy to strengthen international relations with long-time economic partners and identify new markets for Alberta. Of course, our biggest international partner is also Canada's closest friend, neighbour, and ally, the United States. We will build positive relations with the new U.S. administration and support our healthy trading relationship. We will continue to help the U.S. meet its need for a stable and secure supply of energy to power a return to prosperity, and we will demonstrate our commitment to developing our resources in an environmentally responsible way.

Foundations of Our Economy: Energy

Alberta is blessed with world-class energy resources. These have provided broad, sustained wealth creation for Albertans, and they offer long-term energy security for Canada and North America. The royalty changes introduced by government at the beginning of this year set the stage for a renewed partnership between industry and Albertans, the owners of our resources. It is a partnership in which both the rewards and the risks of this volatile industry are more equitably shared.

As outlined in Alberta's first-ever provincial energy strategy, opportunities for further value-added development in Alberta will be pursued in the oil, gas, and petrochemicals industries. This will include a review of Alberta's competitiveness in the energy sector, comprising everything from the cost of materials to the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory regimes. The goal is to ensure that Alberta continues to attract investment that diversifies the economy, creates good jobs for Albertans, and provides revenues to pay for important programs and services.

The aboriginal consultation policy and guidelines on land management and resource development will be reviewed this year with input from First Nations and industry to ensure the approach to consultation is beneficial to all Albertans.

One area of significant government focus is the oil sands, North America's most promising source of energy for decades to come. While global economic uncertainty has slowed the pace of oil sands development, there is no doubt that this abundant resource will play a key role in building long-term economic growth and energy security for Alberta and Canada. Consumers and businesses around the world will be looking for fossil fuels for generations to come, even as the search for alternatives intensifies. Our goal must be to provide the energy the world needs with an environmental footprint that grows lighter and lighter over time.

Your government will release and implement a comprehensive plan that will responsibly manage the economic, environmental, social, and infrastructure impacts and opportunities of oil sands development. The plan will set out strategies to optimize economic growth in the oil sands while reducing their environmental impact. It will increase coordination across all levels of government and stakeholders in developing the oil sands responsibly and enhance accountability in the management of the oil sands. It will foster innovation in science and technology that can solve the unique challenges of oil sands development. There will continue to be an increased emphasis on planning in high-growth communities in the oil sands regions.

With these improvements in mind we must recognize that no leading source of energy today and no source of fossil fuel comes without some environmental consequence. Our goal must be nothing less than to partner with our customers in meeting their energy needs and honouring our mutual commitment to protect the planet for future generations.

Forestry

Our province is blessed with forests that provide social, economic, and environmental benefits for Albertans: they protect watersheds, provide fish and wildlife habitat and recreational opportunities, and support industries, jobs, and communities.

Forest companies and the communities they serve have been hit hard by global economic uncertainty, the slowdown of the U.S. housing market, and ongoing business challenges. The Alberta Government is working with the province's forestry sector to implement recommendations from the Forest Industry Sustainability Committee's interim report to improve global competitiveness, increase value-added opportunities, and pursue the evolving bioindustry.

Programs to promote healthier forests will include the healthy pine strategy to manage the spread of the mountain pine beetle, use strategic harvesting to diversify the age of the timber, and lessen the risk of catastrophic wildfire and insect infestations.

Agriculture

Alberta's agriculture and agrifood industries are key economic drivers of our province. However, Alberta's livestock industry continues to deal with many challenges that threaten its sustainability. Your government is working closely with all sectors to implement the Alberta Livestock and Meat Strategy, a long-term plan that will lay the foundation for a profitable and competitive future.

Alberta has already provided significant support to this valuable industry, more than any other jurisdiction across the country. It is important that we uphold the reputation of Alberta beef, pork, and other meat and livestock products as the best in the world. To do this, we must meet the demands of our customers for food safety, public safety, and animal health and welfare.

Building for Tomorrow

Modern, well-maintained infrastructure plays a vital role in our province's economic success and in supporting the high quality of life Albertans enjoy. Infrastructure projects support essential services and represent important economic activity that encourages employment and business across the province.

Unlike many jurisdictions that are going into deficit with infrastructure stimulus packages, Alberta has more than $6 billion in its capital account to continue an aggressive infrastructure program that began years ago. Your government will follow through on its commitment to make significant investments in hospitals, schools, and other public infrastructure to strengthen our communities and help municipalities address growth pressures.

In today's economic environment, now more than ever, this means investing strategically and building responsibly. Keeping a close eye on project scope and budgets, we will work with stakeholders to ensure that facilities are appropriate for the needs of the community and delivered in a timely, cost-effective, and efficient manner.

SHOWING ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP

Albertans live in one of the most spectacular, diverse, beautiful, and healthy natural environments in the world. Generations of Albertans have grown up with an appreciation of and respect for the environment. Our province is a place of many blessings, including landscapes that are both extremely productive and incredibly beautiful.

With the increasing demand for resources felt from all corners of the globe, Alberta's landscapes face increasing pressure for habitat protection, housing, recreation, jobs, and economic growth. To address these pressures, Alberta is pioneering planning tools and new environmental management approaches that consider our province's landscapes across entire regions. The land-use framework will help promote environmental priorities alongside social and economic goals. Cumulative effects management, already being used in Alberta's Industrial Heartland northeast of Edmonton, will be applied next to the oil sands area in conjunction with the land-use framework.

A Plan for Parks

Among Albertans' most cherished spaces are our province's parks and protected areas. Like the rest of the province these areas are also impacted by a growing population and increased use. A new plan for parks will be introduced this year to ensure the long-term sustainability of our natural landscapes, enhance recreational opportunities, and help to improve the quality of life for Albertans. We want to ensure that Alberta's parks inspire people to discover, enjoy, and value the natural world.

Clean Water, Air, and Land

In 2003 Alberta's Water for Life Strategy became North America's most comprehensive water management strategy. Five years later this province has changed: more people, more buildings, more business, and more demands on our water resources. The renewed Water for Life Strategy addresses those changes and provides clear direction for addressing some of the water challenges facing our province. It will ensure that Alberta's precious water resources are the focus of thoughtful, long-term planning and stewardship.

Your government will redouble efforts to ensure that as we meet the needs of energy consumers here and around the world, we provide them with products that are made with environmental care. We will maintain a long-term focus to invest in clean, low-carbon technology, reduce emissions from industry, and support energy-wise choices for consumers.

Alberta pioneered North America's first regulatory system to reduce industrial greenhouse gas emissions. Our system has already generated more than two and a half million tonnes of real reductions, but this is only a first step to regulate and reduce emissions. We will continue to learn from our actions, adapt, and grow, and we will continue to work with the Federal Government to support a cohesive national framework to limit greenhouse gas emissions and do our part as a responsible, sustainable North American energy leader.

This Spring the Government of Alberta will introduce legislation to facilitate the development of technologies that will help not just Alberta but countries around the world meet the challenge of climate change. The Carbon Capture and Storage Implementation Act will establish a $2 billion investment in carbon capture and storage. Funding for between three and five projects will be announced this year, resulting in greenhouse gas emission reductions of up to five million tonnes annually in Alberta, the equivalent of taking a third of Alberta's vehicles off the road. Even more importantly, these initial projects will set the stage for technological developments that will make carbon capture and storage, real reductions in greenhouse gas emissions, possible in other jurisdictions, including those whose emissions are substantially larger than Alberta's.

Albertans want to do their part to conserve and be energy efficient. Your government will develop an energy efficiency policy framework to help Albertans be wise energy consumers. A consumer rebate program will be introduced to encourage individual actions and energy-wise decisions.

PEOPLE THRIVING IN A SKILLED WORKFORCEInspiring Education

The freedom to create our own future and achieve our dreams so often rests on our enthusiasm for education. This year we will reach out to Albertans to explore their hopes, dreams, and aspirations for their children and learn how we can enable each child to reach his or her full potential. This conversation, called Inspiring Education, will create a long-term vision for kindergarten through grade 12 education in Alberta and develop better ways to offer educational opportunities to our children.

An Environment Where Innovation Flourishes

Your government will help innovation flourish in Alberta. Our province's international reputation is increasingly linked to our commitment to technology as Alberta becomes known as one of the world's preferred destinations for turning ideas into value-added products and services. New technologies will set the pace of our competitive success and will both harness and fuel our imaginations. We must be prepared to compete with and win against the best in the world when it comes to matching education, capital, and ingenuity to make better products, solve bigger problems, and create a better quality of life.

The Alberta Research and Innovation Act, to be introduced this Session, will strengthen and align the entire research and innovation system to help Alberta researchers and entrepreneurs, especially new entrepreneurs, better realize their potential as creators of world-class discoveries and products.

As part of Alberta's action plan for bringing technology to market, entrepreneurs will have access to a new suite of innovation services this year, including more efforts to help spur new product development and match young talent with experienced technology development advisers. A new connector service will help bring companies and international partners together with the many outstanding innovators and organizations in the province, and the Alberta Enterprise Corporation will encourage and leverage international investment.

Our new Campus Alberta philosophy will help nurture this culture of innovation by expanding young minds through our exceptional post-secondary institutions. A revised funding approach will better align resources with learner and labour market demand, focusing on areas that support Alberta's strategic advantage and long-term plan to win in the next generation's economy. Alberta's outstanding education system and trades and technology excellence will be showcased to the world at the September WorldSkills competition in Calgary.

Adapting to a Changing Business Environment

Alberta's labour force has a long history of adapting to a changing business environment. Working from the past success of the building and educating tomorrow's workforce strategy, government will set the future direction for investing in our workforce. We will develop a long-term strategy that will look ahead, anticipate growth, and take the steps needed to ensure that Alberta has the talents and skills to create value-added activity, increase innovation, and expand and diversify the Alberta economy.

Your government is also committed to working with First Nations and Metis leaders on a government-to-government basis to increase labour market participation and economic opportunity. This summer the Government of Alberta, in partnership with Treaty 7 First Nations, will present a first-of-its-kind international symposium that will bring together aboriginal and business communities to share and encourage indigenous economic development strategies. The event, called Gathering for Success, will feature over 500 community, business, and aboriginal leaders and high-profile speakers from around the world.

A HEALTHY APPROACH

Your government recognizes that Albertans want and deserve an excellent health care system that will be strong and sustainable for the future. Alberta has developed a forward-looking five-part plan for health called Vision 2020. This plan is about meeting the needs of individual patients, their families, and communities in a way that recognizes the role of all Albertans in maintaining their health and improving the way health services are organized, delivered, and used. Under Vision 2020 a primary health care strategy will be introduced to promote the use of interdisciplinary health teams and more flexible workforce arrangements. The strategy will also focus on recruitment and retention of the health workforce needed to deliver high-quality and accessible care.

Rural health care will be enhanced through the integration of ambulance and emergency medical services with other parts of the provincial health system effective April 1, 2009. This will result in improved access to high-quality care in rural areas.

Your government will pursue a three-year action plan on children's mental health, a partnership among government, schools, and communities that will support services and resources for optimal mental health and well-being.

A new Drug Programs Benefit Act will be introduced during this Session to support the Alberta Pharmaceutical Strategy. It will make drug coverage more accessible and affordable for lower income Alberta seniors and other vulnerable persons.

The Public Health Amendment Act, also to be introduced this Session, will lay a solid foundation for improving public health by strengthening the role and authority of the Chief Medical Officer of Health in protecting and promoting Albertans' health.

A health research strategy will be developed and implemented to guide Alberta's investment in health research and ensure that research focuses on innovation and improving health service efficiency and effectiveness.

STRONG COMMUNITIES

Alberta is made up of vibrant, inclusive communities, places of opportunity, culture, and belonging where families and children are supported, where the vulnerable are cared for, and where people feel safe. Strong and sustainable municipalities are a key ingredient of strong communities. To foster strong communities throughout the province, your government will provide significant funding to Alberta municipalities through programs like the Municipal Sustainability Initiative.

A Culture of Creativity

Nurturing a culture of creativity and inclusiveness in our province will give Albertans the edge we need to remain competitive with other jurisdictions in Canada and around the world for residents and visitors alike. Last year Alberta hosted its first-ever Arts Day, with events held in communities across the province to celebrate the arts in all its forms. This year the celebration will be expanded to a three-day event, called Arts Days, between September 18 and 20. A province-wide campaign will also be launched to promote Alberta's creativity and artistic excellence.

Supporting Children and Families

Your government will support children and families through improvements in high-quality, accessible, and affordable child care options. The Government of Alberta has made a commitment to support the creation of 14,000 new child care spaces in our province by 2011, and it is well on the way to reaching that goal. More than 5,500 spaces have been created so far.

This year accreditation will be extended to out-of-school child care programs to raise the standard of care these programs provide. Accreditation will provide operators with access to grants and wage top-ups to help recruit, retain, and develop staff. It will also help families find quality care for their school-aged children.

Helping Albertans Through Tough Times

Your government recognizes that economic uncertainty is putting pressure on Albertans, and some are worried about their futures. We will be there to help Albertans through tough times.

Alberta will deliver on its commitment to develop 11,000 affordable housing units by providing capital funding assistance to municipalities, non-profit organizations, and the private sector. With more than 5,600 affordable housing units supported since 2007, we are on track to meet this goal.

Alberta Works programs provide a hand up to employment, and these programs will become both more visible and more important in the year ahead. People with barriers to employment will receive information, advice, and assistance. People facing layoffs will receive help in identifying their options, looking for work, or moving into other careers. People wanting to take occupational upgrading will get help to learn new skills for a changing workforce, and new Albertans will be supported as they settle into community life and move into the workforce.

Supporting Seniors and Persons With Disabilities

Your government recognizes and appreciates the contributions seniors have made and continue to make to our province. Alberta will ensure that seniors who need support, persons with disabilities, and others who are vulnerable or in need are well cared for.

Alberta will continue to pursue its new continuing care strategy to help Albertans to age in the right place by increasing access to home care and providing more choice in supportive living options. It will upgrade the physical and functional condition of long-term care facilities. We are committed to improving quality, supply, and client choice in the continuing care system.

This Session the Supportive Living Accommodation Licensing Act will be introduced. This updated legislation will improve the quality of care and monitoring of standards in supportive living facilities.

The Protection for Persons in Care Amendment Act will also be introduced to better protect adults who receive care and support services from government-funded agencies from abuse by improving prevention, monitoring, and follow-up when abuse has been reported.

Bill 1, Protecting the Jobs of Those Who Serve

Albertans value the tremendous sacrifices Canadian military personnel make to protect our freedoms. Along with leaving family and friends when they are called into active service, those in the reserves also leave their civilian jobs. Your government believes those who defend our security should have job security so they can continue to support their families.

We are privileged to have three members of the Canadian Forces reserves with us today: Corporal Tyler Myroniuk of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, Corporal Nathan Goisnard of the 41 Combat Engineer Regiment, and Master Corporal Kevin Fensom of the King's Own Calgary Regiment.

In order to ensure that Alberta reservists are properly protected under the Employment Standards Code, the government will introduce the Employment Standards Amendment Act to provide job-protected leave. The legislation would require the reinstatement of a reservist into the position he or she held prior to the leave or into a comparable position.

Safe Communities

The Government of Alberta will push forward on its commitment to strong communities. We will continue to advance initiatives that respond to and build on the recommendations of the safe communities task force. In the year ahead safe communities initiatives will focus on families in crisis, mental health services, immigrant support programs, and addiction and recovery projects.

A new framework for law enforcement will be developed to ensure equitable police funding across the province, improve service delivery, and enhance police governance. Negotiations with the Federal Government will continue to ensure that the RCMP remains our provincial police service.

Your government is taking a hard look at the impact organized crime is having on Alberta, including the tremendous pressure it puts on the police and the courts. Alberta will host a gang summit this year to address the problem of gangs and gang activity and the impact on our justice system. Your government will introduce a legislative package to disrupt and dismantle organized crime activity. It will include amendments to the Gaming and Liquor Act to give police another tool to help bar owners and staff deal with gang activity. It will also consider tightening the rules around vehicle modification methods used by gang members such as armour-plating and installing bulletproof glass and surveillance cameras.

A key aspect of the work Alberta is doing requires changing legislation at a federal level. Alberta will continue to take the lead in advocating for changes to federal laws to ensure that those who commit serious crimes, including youth, do serious time.

CONCLUSION

These are certainly challenging times, but Albertans can and should face the future with confidence. Your government remains committed to implementing its plan to support a bright and prosperous future. That plan builds on the steps Albertans and their government have already taken to put our province on a sound footing. It's a plan that goes beyond weathering the current global economic storm to build a springboard to sustainable, diversified long-term growth. It's a plan for education and employment, public health, strong communities, and a culture of innovation. It is a plan that will position Alberta as a committed partner in providing consumers here in Canada and around the world with the energy they need while respecting the environmental values we all share.

Your government will undertake these actions knowing that even in tough times, especially in tough times, it is essential to keep investing in our province and its future. We must continue to welcome people to Alberta to pursue their dreams and build our communities. We must continue to share Alberta's story with people around the world.

Government must do these things, all the while recognizing that its role, while important, is limited. As always, the real authors of our province's success, those who will carry our province forward to an even greater future, are hard-working and innovative Albertans. It is Alberta's people that make our province unique: people who are dynamic and genuine, optimistic and open-minded, people who share the freedom to create and the spirit to achieve. It is Albertans who have made our province great, and together we will continue to build our province for those who will inherit this land that we love.

Thank you, ladies and gentlemen, and may God bless you all.

God bless Alberta. God bless Canada. God save the Queen.

The Speaker then invited Mr. Paul Lorieau to lead the Members and guests in the singing of God Save the Queen.

His Honour the Honourable the Lieutenant Governor then retired from the Assembly.

Speaker's Statement - Leader of the Official Opposition

Honourable Members, on December 13, 2008, the Alberta Liberal Party announced that the Honourable Member for Calgary-Mountain View had been elected its new leader.

On December 15, 2008, the Honourable Member for Edmonton-Riverview advised me in writing that he was resigning his position as Leader of the Official Opposition effective that date, and further requested that the newly elected leader of the Liberal Party of Alberta, the Honourable Member for Calgary-Mountain View, be recognized as the Leader of the Official Opposition.

Please join me in thanking the Member for Edmonton-Riverview for his service as Leader of the Official Opposition.

As of this day the Chamber recognizes the Honourable Member for Calgary-Mountain View as the Leader of the Official Opposition in the Legislative Assembly of Alberta.

The Honourable Member for Calgary-Mountain View becomes the 29th different person in Alberta's history to serve in that capacity and Alberta's 30th Leader of the Official Opposition. One person served twice. That is the reason for the difference in the numbers. The new Honourable Leader of the Official Opposition, congratulations and welcome.

Speaker's Statement - Tabling Returns and Reports

Honourable Members, on several occasions the Chair has risen in this House to discuss the issue of tablings. On Thursday, March 12, 2009, an Honourable Member tabled a document on behalf of one of his honourable colleagues, and this document has been brought to the Chair's attention for several reasons. The issues are as follows. It is not clear what the document is about. There's no cover page, no title, and no heading; the document is not dated nor signed, nor is there an author identified. While the document appears to be an excerpt from a document that is part of legal proceedings, there is no indication of what the document is an excerpt from.

Honourable Members, it is important to note that all documents tabled in the House become official records of the Assembly. They are available to the public through the Legislature Library. The description of Sessional Papers in the Votes and Proceedings is an actual description of the document and is not based on the comments of the Member tabling the document. If there is no way of identifying the document, it is difficult for those producing the official records of the Assembly to be accurate in their description of the document. Staff should not be expected to waste time trying to decipher these documents.

There is need to set additional guidelines and the Chair would ask all Honourable Members to follow them. Copies should be of good quality and legible: five copies collated, stapled, or clipped together. Letters should be signed and the name of the sender should be legible. Web site articles should clearly indicate the name of the web site so that we can properly quote the site. Responses to Written Questions and Motions for Returns must indicate that they are such. Please do not table only a set of documents. It should be clear to all of us that the documents are provided as responses. Reports, charts, and similar items must have a title or heading on the document. The general rule is that Members should table documents under Tabling Returns and Reports.

The Chair will be advised when tablings do not meet these guidelines, and those purported tablings will be returned to Members.

Privilege - Rights of the Assembly to Review Proposed Legislation

On the last day before the Spring break the Member for Edmonton-Strathcona raised a purported question of privilege concerning the regulation-making authority found in Bill 18, Trade, Investment and Labour Mobility Agreement Implementation Statutes Amendment Act, 2009. This Bill is currently at Committee of the Whole stage. The Member's purported question of privilege is based on section 5 of the Bill, which would amend schedule 6.1 of the Government Organization Act by adding a subsection 7(2), which would allow the Lieutenant Governor in Council to make regulations that "may suspend the application of or modify a provision of an Act or regulation or may substitute another provision in place of a provision."

Both the Member for Edmonton-Strathcona and the Government House Leader submitted written materials on March 26, 2009, that restate and supplement their arguments made in the Assembly on March 19. The Chair has tabled those submissions. The full exchange on this purported question of privilege is found at pages 499 to 503 of Alberta Hansard for that day.

With respect to the technical aspects of Standing Order 15, the Speaker's office received written notice from the Member for Edmonton-Strathcona on March 19, 2009, at 11:19 a.m. of her intention to raise the purported question of privilege and a brief description of the issue. Accordingly, the two-hour notice requirement of Standing Order 15(2) was met. For the reasons that follow, the Chair will not comment on whether this matter was raised at the earliest opportunity.

Essentially the Member's argument is that the provision in the Bill would allow the government to amend legislation that is passed by the Legislature without returning to the Assembly. The Member argues that this provision constitutes a breach of the Assembly's privileges, or alternatively, a contempt of the Assembly.

The type of provision found in Bill 18 that is the subject of this purported question of privilege is often referred to as a Henry VIII clause and, as the Chair has discovered, has been the subject of much discussion not only in Canada but across the Commonwealth. The United Kingdom Parliament web site indicates that:

"... the House of Lords Select Committee on the Scrutiny of Delegated Powers in its first report of 1992-93 defined a Henry VIII clause as: a provision in a Bill which enables primary legislation to be amended or repealed by subordinate legislation, with or without further Parliamentary scrutiny ... The clauses were so named from the Statute of Proclamations of 1539, which gave King Henry VIII power to legislate by proclamation."

Erskine May, 23rd edition, at page 664 states:

"... power may ... be conferred, by what is known as a 'Henry VIII clause,' to amend the statute itself by delegated legislation or to amend other statutes."

In conducting research, we discovered that a written question in the British House of Commons asked, "How many Henry VIII clauses were contained in primary legislation enacted in Session 2007-08?" The answer contained in the British House of Commons Hansard for March 2, 2009, was that "the Government do not routinely collect or hold information about the number of Henry VIII provisions."

In the arguments raised by the Member for Edmonton-Strathcona, there is no reference to any instances where such clauses have been ruled a prima facie breach of privilege. Clearly, the references from the United Kingdom and the court decisions in Canada do not indicate that there is any breach of privilege involved when these clauses have been enacted although they may be perceived as objectionable.

Members should be aware that apart from decisions on money Bills, it is not the role of the Chair to rule on the legality or constitutionality of Bills. That is the role given to the courts. As noted in the Government House Leader's brief, this principle is cited in Beauchesne's (6th edition) at paragraph 31(9), where it is stated that "... the failure of the Government to comply with the law is not a matter for the Speaker, but should be decided by the courts." This is also clearly stated at page 21 of Parliamentary Practice in B.C. (4th edition). There have also been rulings in this Assembly on this issue, the most recent being from the Chair on March 3, 2005, as noted at page 26 of Hansard.

The ability of Parliament or a Legislature to delegate authority to amend statutory provisions was set out as long ago as 1917 in a decision by the British House of Lords.

Accordingly, the Chair rules that there is no prima facie question of privilege, and the matter is now concluded with the following addendum. The Chair should not be seen as endorsing the use of these types of clauses. There is no doubt that they detract from the role of the Assembly, however, the question as to whether a Henry VIII clause ought to be used is different than the question as to whether it may be used.

Privilege - Attendance at a Government News Conference

Mr. Mason, Hon. Member for Edmonton-Highlands-Norwood, raised a purported question of privilege under Standing Order 15 regarding being prevented from attending a government news conference on April 23, 2009, at Government House.

The Speaker heard from Ms Notley, Hon. Mr. Renner, Ms Blakeman, Hon. Mr. Snelgrove, Mr. Mason, and Mr. MacDonald.

The Speaker then ruled on the purported question of privilege.

The Chair wants to thank all Members for their participation. Usually the Chair takes a day or two to rule on purported questions of privilege, but this situation has been well known for a few days, and the Chair does not want to prolong it any longer.

Essentially, the Honourable Leader of the third party's question of privilege is that his ability as a Member was infringed upon in an unacceptable manner when he was denied entry to Government House for an announcement concerning the drug plan for seniors made by the Honourable Minister of Health and Wellness on the morning of Thursday, April 23, 2009. Technically this alleged violation of the Member's ability to perform his duties is characterized as a contempt.

For the benefit of those viewing the proceedings who may not be familiar with the location of various buildings in Edmonton, Government House is located a few kilometres north and west of the Legislature. It is next to the Royal Alberta Museum and is used by the government for various purposes, including caucus meetings and ceremonial events.

With respect to procedural matters the Chair notes that the third party Leader provided notice of his purported question of privilege to the Speaker's office at 11:09 a.m. today, April 27, 2009. The events giving rise to the purported question of privilege occurred last Thursday. Standing Order 15(5) provides that a question can be raised "after the words are uttered or the events occur that give rise to the question." The Member chooses to rely on the two-hour notice provision found in Standing Order 15(2). For the reasons that follow, the Chair will consider that notice has been adequately provided.

A similar issue concerning access to government briefings was the subject of a Speaker's ruling on March 7, 2000, at pages 286-287 of Alberta Hansard for that day. In that instance the Chair ruled that denial of access to a press briefing in the media room in the Legislature Building was not a question of privilege. As the Chair noted then, he does not have control over that room and that it is not booked through the Speaker's office. It is not part of the parliamentary precincts. Clearly, the same can be said of Government House and McDougall Centre in Calgary.

In the 2000 ruling the Chair referred to a January 19, 1984, ruling by Speaker Francis in the Canadian House of Commons. The 1984 incident involved some Members of the opposition being excluded from a media lock-up where it was alleged that a copy of a Bill was released prior to First Reading. As this Chair said in 2000 at pages 286 and 287 of Alberta Hansard:

"... even in the federal Parliament, where the Speakers of the Commons and the Senate exercise control over the entire building, it has been held that restricting attendance at a media lock-up does not constitute a question of privilege."

The Chair went on to quote Speaker Francis's 1984 ruling at page 563 of Commons Debates for January 19, 1984:

"The Chair obviously recognizes that the parties represented in this House may from time to time request rooms. They may or may not choose to invite members of the press. They may choose to invite their own supporters or include or exclude their own supporters. They may on occasion include members of other Parties or not include them. This is not a matter for the Speaker to decide."

As the Chair held then, allowing or not allowing a Member to attend a media briefing does not constitute an impediment or obstruction to the Member performing his or her parliamentary duties which, presumably, is the category of privilege that the Leader of the third party relies upon. If the facts had been different and the question of privilege involved a denial of access to the Chamber or a proceeding in this parliament and the precincts of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta, this ruling may have been very different.

Accordingly, the Chair finds that there is no prima facie question of privilege and the matter is now concluded.

Privilege - Advice From the Ethics Commissioner

The Chair is prepared to rule on the purported question of privilege raised by the Honourable Member for Edmonton-Riverview yesterday, June 2, 2009. To summarize, the Member's purported question of privilege was that the Ethics Commissioner interfered with the Member's ability to perform his functions by providing conflicting advice as to whether the Member could participate in debate on Bill 43, Marketing of Agricultural Products Amendment Act, 2009 (No. 2). In documents provided to the Speaker in support of his purported question of privilege, the Member included letters from the Ethics Commissioner dated May 26, 2009, advising him that as a result of the holdings of the Member's father-in-law he had to recuse himself from participation in debate on the Bill and from voting, and a letter dated June 1, 2009, where the Ethics Commissioner apologized for his earlier advice and informed the Member he could participate in further debate and vote on Bill 43.

Under Standing Order 15(6) the Speaker's role in a question of privilege is to determine whether the matter was raised at the earliest opportunity and whether it constitutes a prima facie question of privilege. With respect to the formalities the Member indicated yesterday that he received the Ethics Commissioner's letter after the proceedings in the Assembly had commenced on June 1. He provided notice to the Speaker's office at 10:55 a.m. on June 2, which the Chair finds to be in compliance with Standing Order 15(2), and the Chair finds that the matter was raised at the earliest opportunity.

At the outset the Chair notes that it was clear from the Member for Edmonton-Riverview's comments yesterday that he was driven by a desire to comply with the rules that the Members have set for themselves in the Conflicts of Interest Act while wanting to participate in debate on a matter for which he had prepared extensively. His justified frustration was apparent.

While this matter was raised by one particular Member, it reflects a sentiment that is found throughout the Assembly of Members being dedicated to observing the rules while wanting to represent their constituents.

In this case there is no doubt that the Member was prevented from participating in the debate at Committee stage on Bill 43. However, any obstruction that occurred was because of advice from an Officer of the Legislature whose mandate and functions are set out in the Conflicts of Interest Act. The Member did not suggest that there was any malicious intent on the part of the Commissioner or that the Commissioner was acting outside the scope of his duties.

The Ethics Commissioner occupies a unique position as the Assembly has delegated to that individual the ability to know a Member's and his or her family's most intimate financial details and to apply the Conflicts of Interest Act in a fair and even-handed manner. It is a position of ultimate trust. While the position and duties are defined by a statute, his recommendations are subject to debate and approval by the Assembly when he proposes a sanction against a Member. Just as the Commissioner must expect Members to be forthright in their disclosures, Members have the right to expect that the decisions and advice from the Commissioner are rigorous and consistent.

In this case the Commissioner admitted to having made a mistake which deprived the Member of his ability to participate in a critical phase of the legislative process.

In conducting research on this matter, the Chair discovered that on October 6, 2005, Speaker Milliken of the Canadian House of Commons found that there was a prima facie question of privilege involving the actions of the then Ethics Commissioner, Dr. Bernard Shapiro, which can be found at House of Commons Debates pages 8473-8474. The matter was referred to the Standing Committee on Procedure and House Affairs, which found that the Commissioner was in contempt of the House but did not recommend any sanctions or penalty. That report was presented in the House of Commons on November 18, 2005. In that case the issue was that the Commissioner discussed a complaint against a Member with the media in violation of his duty of confidentiality and that the Member was not provided with written notice of the investigation and the charges against him.

In this case the Ethics Commissioner was fulfilling his duty to provide advice to a Member. The essence of the complaint is that the advice was wrong, which was admitted by the Commissioner, and that the error deprived the Member of his ability to participate in debate.

The Assembly is not without recourse against Officers. For instance, under section 36 of the Conflicts of Interest Act the Ethics Commissioner may be suspended or removed from office for cause or incapacity by the Lieutenant Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Assembly. If the Assembly is not sitting, the Standing Committee on Legislative Offices may recommend suspension, but that suspension is only effective until the end of the next sitting of the Assembly.

The Conflicts of Interest Act is a code for Members. It does not provide for an appeal of advice provided by the Commissioner. The Chair is reluctant to find there is a prima facie question of privilege as that could be interpreted as providing an avenue for appeal for Members from advice from the Ethics Commissioner.

The Chair would as well like to make a comment on something said by another Member during his participation in the debate on this purported question of privilege. It is this Chair's view, and one supported by the Conflicts of Interest Act that Members must act in accordance with advice from the Ethics Commissioner. Under section 43(5) of the Act, no proceeding can be taken against a Member "by reason only of the facts so communicated and the compliance of the Member, former Minister or former . . . staff member with the recommendations." In short, Members should not engage in opinion shopping as they are only protected if they comply with the Ethics Commissioner's advice.

At this time the Chair is of the view that there is no prima facie question of privilege but does not want to end the matter there. In the Chair's view the Member was most gracious in speaking to the issue of remedy. He was not seeking a proverbial pound of flesh but wanted to ensure that there were measures undertaken to review what constitutes a conflict of interest so that Members could perform their functions while not furthering their private interests.

In the Chair's view there is much merit to this suggestion. Even prior to this question of privilege, discussions were underway to ensure that caucuses and officials could provide their views to the Ethics Commissioner so that there was harmony between the intent of Members in enacting the legislation and the Commissioner in interpreting it. Towards that end, there are some actions that the Chair would like to advise Members of that will or, in the Chair's view, should occur.

The Ethics Commissioner has agreed to meet with caucuses to discuss and receive input on the application of the Conflicts of Interest Act. This invitation must be taken up.

Parliamentary Counsel and counsel from the Department of Justice and Attorney General are to meet with the Ethics Commissioner to discuss the background to the Act, previous reviews of the Act, and approaches to interpretation.

The Speaker and Minister of Justice and Attorney General are available to discuss any issues that the Ethics Commissioner might have concerning the application of the Act.

The Ethics Commissioner is to provide prior to the commencement of the Fall sitting a general overview on the interpretation of the Act with respect to what might constitute a private interest of such a nature to require a Member to absent himself or herself from the proceedings of the Assembly, committee, or other forum.

The Chair reminds Members that a Select Special Committee of the Assembly under the chairmanship of the Member for Calgary-Nose Hill, reviewed the Conflicts of Interest Act a few years ago. The committee issued its report in May of 2006. The Bill resulting from that review was introduced in the Assembly on April 18, 2007, considered by a Policy Field Committee, and given Royal Assent on December 7, 2007. It came into effect on April 1, 2008. The Chair points this out as there is a great deal of background material on this subject found in the report and the proceedings of the committees. Research should be done, in fact, with the historical records of that committee.

While it is hoped that any consultations are productive, the Chair would like to offer a comment as he is not a disinterested observer in the proceedings in this Assembly. In fact, it is the Chair who witnesses and deals directly with the impact that the Ethics Commissioner's rulings and advice have on the deliberations in this Assembly.

As the discussions move forward, the Chair hopes that all are mindful that constituents often expect that their elected representative's experience will play a part in the decision-making process. Of course, no one is disputing that if, for example, a Member or a direct associate would derive a real and tangible benefit from a contract or such, the Member should recuse him or herself from the deliberations. The issue is where to draw the line between private interest and public duty.

One of the recommendations of the Select Special Committee that reviewed the Act in 2005-06 was that the preamble be expanded to include provisions such as:

"The Assembly as a whole can represent the people of Alberta most effectively if its Members have experience and knowledge in relation to many aspects of life of Alberta and if they can continue to be active in their own communities, whether in business, in the practice of a profession, or otherwise.

A Member's duty to represent his or her constituents includes broadly representing his or her constituents' interests in the Assembly and to the Government of Alberta."

Bill 2 amended the Conflicts of Interest Act to add a new recital to the preamble which reads:

"Whereas Members of the Legislative Assembly can serve Albertans most effectively if they come from a spectrum of occupations and continue to participate actively in the community;"

In the Chair's view these principles are a good basis on which to guide discussion on the interpretation of the Act.

Speaker's Statement - Order of Private Members' Public Bills

Honourable Members, the Chair has to make some comments about the order of Private Members' Public Bills.

As is often the case when Session appears to be coming to an end, Members become anxious about having their Private Members' Public Bills considered prior to the end of the Session. In that vein, on November 18, 2009, the Chair tabled a letter from the Honourable Member for Calgary-Fish Creek dated that same day, requesting that Bill 206 receive early consideration at Third Reading if it passed Committee stage. The letter is recorded as Sessional Paper 638/2009.

The next day, Thursday, November 19, 2009, the Chair received a letter from the Member for Calgary-Varsity, which was tabled today, asking that Bill 209, which he is sponsoring, receive some consideration today.

The issue about the early consideration of Private Members' Public Bills has been the subject of several Speakers' rulings over the years. I would refer Members to the May 8, 2006, ruling at pages 1356 and 1357 of Alberta Hansard for that day, and the December 1, 2003, ruling, found at page 1968 of Alberta Hansard for that day. One feature of both rulings is the Chair's request to Members and House Leaders to have the situation reviewed and clarified.

In 2003 the Chair stated the view that "a Member should not be able to request early consideration of his or her Bill at the next stage until it has passed the previous stage." However, that is not the rule, for reasons that the Chair will elaborate upon.

The Speaker's role in determining the order of business for Private Members' Public Bills stems from Standing Order 9(1) which states that "All items standing on the Order Paper, except Government Bills and Orders, shall be taken up according to the precedence assigned to each on the Order Paper." The issue for the Chair is to determine how to interpret "precedence assigned to each."

As indicated in previous rulings, this issue precedes this Speaker. In his February 11, 1997, ruling, Speaker Schumacher outlined a procedure whereby Members could request early consideration of their Bills. The ruling is found at page 16 of the Journals for that date. As the Chair believes this is such an important issue, he will repeat part of that ruling:

"If a Member wants his or her Bill to be considered before the due date, then that Member must make a written request to the Speaker prior to the opening of the House the day before the Member wants the Bill to be considered. For example, if a Member wants a Bill to be considered on a Wednesday, the letter must be received by the Speaker before the opening of the House on Tuesday on which day the Chair will table the letter."

When this ruling was given, private Members' business was considered on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, and that is the reason I refer to that. We now have a situation where we have private Members' business on Mondays, so you have to have it in by Thursday.

"When a Member requests that his or her Bill be considered before its due date, the Bill will be called after debate has concluded on the Private Members' Public Bill that is then before the House or Committee of the Whole assuming that no other Bills have reached their due dates."

In keeping with the previous practices, the business for today will start with Committee of the Whole consideration of Bill 206. If this Bill is reported by the Committee and the report is accepted by the Assembly, then the Assembly will move to Third Reading consideration of Bill 206 for one hour. If there is time remaining the Assembly will resume its consideration of Bill 208 at Second Reading stage. Once that is completed, Bill 209 may be moved for Second Reading.

As the Chair indicated, there is some sympathy for Members who feel that their Bills have been "bumped" by requests for early consideration. On December 1, 2003, the Chair noted that the request for early consideration of Bill 208, which had not passed Committee stage when the request for early consideration of the Bill at Third Reading stage was made, might work a hardship on the Member who was sponsoring Bill 209 at Second Reading. The Chair noted the procedure for early consideration but stated:

"In an effort to ensure that the system is fair and equitable to all Members, the Chair would welcome suggestions by Members and their House Leaders over the winter on this issue of early consideration of Private Members' Public Bills so that a procedural policy could be put in place for the spring 2004 Session, one that would be very clear at the initiation of the Session."

No recommendations were forthcoming and no changes were made despite the Chair's second invitation.

The Chair renewed that invitation in 2006, but despite an extensive review of the Standing Orders since then, no changes have been made. The Chair sincerely hopes that this issue will be resolved or at least considered by House Leaders and Members in the near future.
